

P. Diddy Hosts Party At Borgata; Atlantic City Electric's Parker Speaks

by Lou Perri

This Saturday, June 25th, Sean "P. Diddy" Combs, the ultimate master of ceremonies, hosts another All-Access Party at the Borgata Hotel Casino & Spa as the casino teams up with Maxim, Stuff, and Blender magazines for the second consecutive year.

This unique party, starting at 10 p.m., features special musical Jet, Carmen Electra (isn't she beautiful and talented) and the Bombshell Babes, and DJ AM in a one-of-a-kind night club setting. In addition, there will be week-end long festivities at Gypsy Bar, The Music Box, the Borgata Room and MIXX nightclub.

All-Access gives some 3,000 guests (that's right, 3000) the exclusive opportunity to party like the A-list celebrities who attend Maxim's invite-only soirées, "as they revel in a spectacular nightclub experience."

Partygoers will be "mesmerized by the beautiful Carmen Electra and the Bombshell Babes as they take the art of burlesque to its limits. (Sounds inviting to this writer.) They will rock to the music of Jet and celebrate into the morning (hey, this guy's going to tire) with host P. Diddy.

The week-end festivities get started Friday, June 24th, and continues through the early hour of Sunday morning, as Blender takes over the Gypsy Bar stage bringing up-and-coming bands to Borgata including Drive By Truckers.

Highlights include a surprise celebrity host, a first ever screening of New Line Cinema's The Wedding Crashers starring Owen Wilson and Steve Vaughn, and (yes I'm going to like this) a meeting with Carmen Electra at a Maxim July issue cover signing.

Larry Mullin, executive vice president chief operating officer for Borgata told the Philadelphia New Observer, his casino is excited about teaming up with Maxim again to create a unique party experience like All-Access. He said the party will "truly be an unforgettable experience with great entertainment, incredible atmosphere and beautiful people."

While this writer can't say he's a fan of rap music, he did enjoy P. Diddy's rendition of Best Friend, a beautiful rendition about his relationship with Jesus Christ. In an interview, he said he got started at the age of 12 years when he started a newspaper route, then added two more routes to it.
